Dear Lumm:-

Send me a copy of the song book. I enclose check for $1.50.

On Friday it will be 37 years since I went on The Times, taking my orders from you, as city editor. A long time ago. I liked Los Angeles of 1887 better than I do the big, noisy city of today.

McGroarty has been the head of the magazine, and I have been the tail, and John has complained that the tail wags the dog. Now that you are in the middle, as a sort of solar plexus, it will be better balanced.

Wishing you luck, I am

Yours faithfully,

Larry Brook

Dear Harry:

Thank you! I have many famous subscribers but none more valued.

I threw pious prayer in your direction today, the 37th anniversary of your advent on the TIMES, when I was City Editor and you a mighty trusty Lieutenant!

And you are dead right - Los Angeles of that day was a damned sight better than the crazy, braggart, de-natured hick metropolis of today.

The books will be out about the 20th and you shall have yours promptly. I think you will be charmed with its physical make-up and I know you will love its contents.

I am getting stronger and hope with decent luck - and better care than I know how to give myself - to paddle along for a good many years yet in the paths of usefulness.

HOPING YOU ARE THE SAME, and with long love,

Always your Friend,

CFL/R
